Personal skills and competences

I have the relevant experience to execute the position of Radio Officer. In the last 25 years I was working as a Radio Operator, Purser, Maritime Admin on the offshore vessels, rigs, drill-ships, and commercial vessels. I am flexible and adaptable to changing and diverse situations, also accustomed to hazardous and challenging environments.

An experienced and qualified Offshore Radio Operator who is a diligent, disciplined with extensive radio communications and administrative experience. I am conscientious and self-motivated, with a flair for motivation within a range of cross-functional groups

I have vast experience working in various fields this includes working on oil and gas installations on various fields worldwide. One of my primary operational functions is the administration and the movement of large numbers of personnel to and from offshore platforms and shipping assets also register all Arriving/Departing Crew and manage vessel Cabin Allocations. Distribute POB lists to shore on a daily basis. Update and distribute Lifeboat and Crew Lists on board. Maintain confidential personnel records of the Marine and Project Crew including updated CVs, certification and any other qualifications Maintain and distribute Project and Marine personnel's Monthly Time Records, Weekly Timesheets, Monthly Tax Sector Lists, dealing with salary related issues and travel expenses. Collate all relevant information, generate and distribute the Daily Project Report. Maintain the General Project and Marine filing system. Liaising with regional Offshore Personnel Logistics to coordinate regular ship crew changes and Project related mobilisations of personnel. Co-ordinate on and off going personnel during helicopter activities when required. Maintain Regular Project Crew Rota as directed by Offshore Manager. Update and issue on board Shift Rota for Project and Marine personnel.

I am diligent, self-disciplined and enthusiastic, with a good work ethic and can operate as a member of a team or individually. I have a positive attitude and consistently achieve project aims.
